Poetry.

The Heart.

If words could satisfy the heart,
The heart might find less care;
But words, like summer birds depart,
And leaves but empty air.
The heart, a pilgrim on the earth,
Finds often when it needs,
That words are of as little worth,
As just so many weeds.

A little said—and truly said—
Can deeper joy impart,
Than hosts of words that reach the head,
But never touch the heart,
The voice that wins its sunny way,
A lonely heart to cheer,
Has oft the fewest words to say,
But oh, those few—how dear.

Selected Story.

Widow and Steward.

Monsieur Renaud Dechamps was a bachelor in every sense of the word. He was thirty-five, vain, conceited and selfish he had not the least excuse for vanity, as he could not claim the most distant relationship to Apollo.

Now, with all his faults in character and personal appearance, M. Renaud Dechamps was possessed of something which every member of his club envied him—which the few ladies he had ever known had striven to be mistress of, namely, the most magnificent chateau in the entire empire. It was indescribably faultless, externally, internally and in its surroundings.

Twice a week, M. Dechamps visited Paris and thus did he pass his life year in and year out; absorbed in himself, and never imagining there would come a day when he would wish he had done otherwise. The flowers had just displayed their colors, and the tress were looking down upon them with their green-eyed jealousy in the gardens of the chateau, when M. Dechamps commenced his morning walk, which he always took at that season of the year. He had walked until he was tired, one morning in the middle of May, and he seated himself by the side of a tiny artificial lake, so clear that it reflected everything around it. After gazing into it for some time, M. Dechamps started as he saw another figure reflected in the water beside his own. He turned quickly and close behind him saw, not a gardener, nor one of the stray tame animals about his park, but a young girl, scarcely less fresh-looking than the surrounding flowers, whose very petite but exquisite form was attired in a habit of green, so bright that it made the trees look faded. She was seated on a pony, which held its head up erect, disdaining to avail itself of the freedom the loose rein entitled it to; for the rider had dropped the rein, taken her foot from the stirrup, turned herself completely around in the saddle, and was occupied in sketching. M. Dechamps first gazed in amazement, then coughed, and finally rose, at which point the lady, not a bit disconcerted, or surprised, raised her head quickly and exclaimed:

"Oh! please don't move, I am making a sketch of the chateau and its surroundings."

"If mademoiselle will not give me horns or big ears, I will oblige her by remaining quiet," replied M. Dechamps, not knowing whether he had received a compliment or not. His vanity led him to suppose he had; that the lady knew him and wished to have his picture. Still he was a little doubtful, and with that doubt expressed on his face he sat down turning his face, however, and not his back, to the fair artist.

"Don't look so uncomfortable, and don't I beg, scowl so, or I shall draw you as a weed among the shrubbery."

"I assure you I feel——"

"Frightened, as every one does when they have their picture taken for the first time. I presume you never sat for your portrait before. I can assure you don't enchance the beauty of my sketch, but I can easily rub you out," continued the intrusive artist, without raising her eyes to M. Dechamps, and as unconcernedly as though she were talking to the trees.

"When you have done with me, I will retire as I have other occupations for my time."

"You surely have a holiday to-day, or does your master set you all tasks before he leaves for Paris?" queried the young lady, putting her pencil to her lips, so red that one would fancy the pencil would be stained with blood.

M. Dechamps was thunderstruck. His vanity had received a fearful shock, which sent it bounding against his conceit, the effect being to completely ruffle him. He forgot his stately bearing, disregarded what was due to a lady, and springing to his feet, he said:

"By what right do you intrude here?"

"Good gracious, is that an imitation of your master? If so, I will play mistress and teach you that respect to a lady is expected from the lowest menial."

M. Dechamps was at a loss for words, but as the lady showed no signs of going, he had time to recover himself. He glanced at the pretty picture before him, and if he did not admire it, he certainly did not admire himself. He had never apologized in his life to any one, but he contrived now to give utterance to something intended for an apology.

"Don't mention it. I have made you aware of your rudeness. I don't want ang apology. I detest too much humility in a man. There, I have almost finished for to day. Now, tell me, who I must thank for the pleasure of this peep at the chateau."

"I am the steward of M. Dechamps and it will give me pleasure to let you see more of the chateau," replied Mr. Dechamps, prompted by he did not know what.

"I have, indeed, been unpardonably rude, but I did not know M. Dechamps was civilized enough to have a steward."

"You do not entertain a very high opinion of M. Dechamps?"

"No one does that I ever heard of."

"Indeed; and why not?"

"Because he is a selfish, morbid bachelor who does not know how to appreciate the blessings fortune has heaped upon him."

"You have old ideas for a young lady."

"I am not a young lady, I am a widow. Were I a young lady, do you suppose I would be here alone and conversing with the steward of M. Dechamps? The idea is preposterous."

Monsieur Dechamps was pleased, he knew not why; but he was glad the lady before him was not a bold young demoiselle, but an independent little widow.

'I am the only person in the world from whom M. Dechamps takes advice, and if you tell me what you think he ought to do to make himself more popular, I will advise him, and I think he will listen to me."

"I detest a popular man. But if you wish to advise M. Dechamps, tell him as his chateau is surrounded by many poor, to throw open his gardens to them once a week, provide a dinner, and make it a gala day; besides this, he could relieve the wants of many. It is for a charitable purpose that I am stealing a sketch of this chateau. I intend to make a painting of it, and sell it, expecting that the proceeds will make comfortable a family of six. Were I rich I would not do this, but I do more than your employer, with all his wealth, and I was determined he should in some way do something.

"He may object to this public sale of his private property."

"I expect him to object, and I hope his objection will be great."

"And why so?"

"Because I shall tell him that the only means by which he can prevent the public sale is to buy the picture himself, and believe me, I shall name a high price for it."

"A very clear idea; but I fear you will fail."

"And wherefore?"

"Because M. Dechamps will be forced into nothing."

"He will not refuse the request of a lady?"

"That is a different thing," replied M. Dechamps, blushing at the thought of his own gallantry.

"Then that is precisely the way in which I shall make my request, and I am confident of success. Now I must go, and trust you will not betray me, or if you do, you shall share in the purchase."

"I give you my word I shall say nothing, and as proof of my sincerity, I will, if you wish it let you see the interior of the chateau. M. Dechamps will be to-morrow where he is to day—you will see no one but me, and I shall feel proud to conduct so estimable a lady through the chateau."

"Delightful. If I find M. Dechamps half as polite when I see him as his steward, I shall become his companion, and begin to think that envy has painted him worse than he is. What time shall I come to-morrow?"

"Your own convenience must decide that."

"Then I would suggest the morning—everything is so bright and enjoyable in the morning. Will eleven be too early?"

"Not at all."

"Then I shall be here at that hour. It is but just that you should know who I am. My husband was M. Paul Jerrolt, brother to the Marquis of C——; he was, as you have heard, of course, killed in a duel, which originated in a fancied insult to me. It is just two years ago, and ever since I have lived in the only spot in the world I can call my own, the pretty little villa, scarcely a mile from here. You will, of course, tell M. Dechamps of my visit—you may also tell him who I am—as I do not care to cater to his vanity by having him suppose I was some poor creature who viewed his elegance as something new to me."

"All shall be as you wish, madame."

"You are most kind, monsieur, and I appreciate your civility. Bon jour."

M. Dechamps raised his hat, the little widow gave a bewitching bow and galoped out of sight leaving the bachelor bewildered but fully sensible to her charms, and thoroughly ashamed of himself, not as she knew him, but as he was.

The following morning was, if anything, brighter, than the preceding one and the little widow prettier and happier. She had paid great attention to her appearance, though she wore the same habit; it was turned over in front, and displayed a spotless chemisette, finished off at the neck by a jaunty green bow; her hair was in light, graceful ringlets, all of which had the effect of making her look still more childish, still more piquant.

Any difficulty Mme. Jerrolt had anticipated in finding the stew was removed by seeing that individual standing actually at the gates. Yes it was an actual fact, M. Dechamps had risen at nine and without ringing his bell, so that the chateau still maintained its morning tranquility, and so well trained were the servants that had the bell not sounded for a week, no one would have ventured to intrude upon M. Dechamps, who, after rising, went through his chateau to ascertain if all looked as it should to receive a visitor. Precisely at eleven he was waiting at the gates, and precisely two minutes after that hour the little widow arrived.

"Are you here to receive me, or to tell me I must not enter?" was Mme. Jerrolt's greeting.

"I am here to conduct you trough both grounds and chateau by permission—nay I may say request—of M. Dechamps, who expressed himself as honored by your giving his chateau a moment's consideration."

An hour's ride, side by side, brought them to the chateau, and there the admiration of Madame Jerrolt knew no bounds, nor did the admiration of M. Dechamps for his fair, bewitching visitor.

"One, two and three hours had passed, and still both liggered to examine and re examine the wonderous paintings, the rare books, the antique furniture, and in fact, everything that fell within reach of their eyes.

By this time Mme. Jerrolt signified her wish to depart. M. Dechamps assisted her to her horse, mounted his own and rode to the gate with her; little or no conversation passed between them. At parting, Mme. Jerrolt, without knowing why, held her hand out, M. Dechamps took it knowing full well why she did so.

He watched the widow out of sight and then on the wings of delight and hunger he flew back to the chateau, rung his bell, set his household in motion, and late as it was, sat down to his breakfast. The valet wondered, the cook grumbled, the butler was indifferent, and the coachman impatient. M. Dechamps was intensely happy, and from that day he never lost the sensation.

One week passed, and then two weeks, and no widow; but on the third week there was widow every day in the week, the steward pretending to guard her from M. Dechamps. Rides through the park, sketches of the chateau, and sprightly conversation made the hours fly, and finally Mme. Jerrolt announced that she, armed with her picture, was going to make her attack on the following Monday.

"The sooner the better, I assure you, madame."

"And wherefore?"

"It will decide the pecuniary affairs of the poor family for whom you work."

"True," replied Mme. Jerrolt, somewhat disappointed, as she had expected a compliment. She only remained a short time longer, and then left without a word more in reference to the picture or the hour at which she would bring it. The consequence of which was that M. Dechamps sat in state in his library the entire of Monday morning, and was just about to ring for his luncheon when the servant announced: "Mme. Jerrolt on business of importance."

Mme. Jerrolt and her important business were instantly admitted by the servant who said:

"M. Dechamps, madame——"

"You, Monsieur Dechamps; you the selfish, cross old bachelor!" almost shrieked the little widow.

"I am M. Renaud Dechamps. But I trust you have found that I am not as black as painted."

Mme. Jerrolt was dumbfounded, and could only extend her hand and the picture.

"I accept both, madame, and lay at your feet the original of the park and chateau, with the very humble owner."

At this juncture Mme. Jerrolt sunk into a chair and looked speechless at M. Dechamps, who, timid and blushing as he awaited his answer.

"You are silent, madame," he at last said.

"What can I say?"

"Yes or no."

"Then—then, I say—yes," stammered the little widow.

'Tis five years since the obscure little widow became Mme. Dechamps. She is complete mistress of the chateau, as she is her husband's heart. She has transformed him into a benevolent, esteemed gentleman, whose purse is ever open to the poor, as well as his garden gates. His own children—two in number, and both girls—have more to say in the chateau than he has; but he bows in all love and humility to the little tyrants, and is rewarded by the ever increasing love of his little wife who is the happiest of little women.

Truth Stranger than Fiction.

At the out break of the late war between the States, in one of our charming gulf coast cities, there resided a young lady, the daughter of one not unknown to fame, and who had occupied a high civil position in the State of——. The young lady was engaged to a gentleman in every respect worthy of her hand and heart. But the course of true love never does run smooth. Haughty guardians—white lies—a system of merciless persecution on the part of the guardian toward the fair and accomplished ward, destroyed the existing engagement between the lovers, and fraught with the bitterest consequences, as the sequel will establish. The young gentleman at once became reckless of life—fought with the greatest gallantry on many a bloodstained battle field in the cause of the South, until the close of the war.

Like many others who had lost all upon the result, the advent of peace did not bring back to him hope or joy. Having lost everything on earth he valued, he plunged into every excess of life—became a noted and confirmed fast man and inveterate gambler, noted for his desperation at play—one whose heart was as hard as steel and as cold as ice. The young lady, to avoid the persecution of a heartless guardian, fled from her home. One false step followed another in quick succession, until at last she became an inmate of one of those noted Memphis establishments too well known, in our fair city. To sum it up she had fallen into sin and shame—a victim to persecution—a votary at the shrine of crime and folly.

She had been a resident of Memphis but about four weeks when the gentleman (her former lover) arrived in the city. Of course he frequented the fashionable gambling houses of the city, in pursuit of his profession. A few evenings after he visited the house of Mme.——, a noted keeper of a bagnio. Seating himself at a piano, he thumbed over an old air unconsciously, "Kinlock of Kinlock," a favorite in time gone by. He had struck but a few bars when a lady rushed into the parlor, and seized him by the shoulder, turned him half around, gazed into his face, and exclaimed, in a tone of agony, "My God, is this Mr.——?"

They had met once more, after a lapse of ten years—but how changed were the positions of each? The accomplished belle had become a "soiled dove"—the high-toned and chivalric gentleman had become a noted and desperate gambler.

The gentleman, overcome by the sudden apparition, dropped his face into his hands and wept like a child. The tide of years swept back over his past life, and memory dragged up the drowned recollections of former days, when he stood by the side of a fair, pure maiden her chosen lover.

Mutual explanations followed the denouement. The love which had in better and happier days been the fruitful source of joys and woes unnumbered, sprang at once into existence. In fact, it had never died, but smouldered in the bosom of each, over past recollections sad and unfortunate. They retired to a private apartment for a short time to hear the story of their lives, as each detailed it with truth. They left the house of shame at once, and a few evenings since were married. Ere this, hundreds of miles separate them from Memphis, the scene of this sad but romantic reunion.

It matters not who they were—names are mere incidents in a heart history—and certainly no Christian man or woman would desire a publication of names when it would but follow the man and woman to their far-off western home, and give rise to tales of mystery and disgrace. The society of "outrageously virtuous," headed by Miss Prim, will no doubt cry out "shame" when they learn that wicked people struggle back toward the paths of virtue and reformation; but what of that? Let the "innocent cast the first stone," and we will rest satisfied that no direct attack will be made upon our hero and heroine.

This is a true history, strange and romantic, proving again that it is never too late to retrace our steps, and that no human being is ever lost while life exists. We have no doubt that this strange and accidental meeting will work a reformation as to both parties, for our philosophy teaches us that "from the nettle danger we often pluck the flower of safety."—Memphis Appeal.

REPLY TO NORTHERN CORRESPONDENTS.

During the past month we have received letters from different parts of the North, mostly from Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, desiring us to state what has been the success of Northern emigration here and how far those settling here have realized their expectations,—in short whether they are satisfied with their change. The inquiries are pertinent and natural, and we feel it right and proper to publicly answer them.

Northern emigration began to come here in 1868. Since that time over three hundred Northern persons have settled in and around Elizabeth City. A few of these came here under a false impression. They were failures at home, and had in imagination pictured this country to be an El Dorado where people could live, succeed and make money without effort or labor. These never should have come because they have reflected discredit on the Northern character. They were failures before and of course are failures here. They were not the element or material calculated or needed to settle up and develope the resources of this or any other country. Several of those have gone back "disgusted:" the rest of them had better follow their example.

Another class enamored of cheap lands, laid out all their money in large farms expecting to live, pay expenses and meet their second and third payments out of their crops. They thought that on their farms it was but necessary to touch with their "magic wand," and milk and honey would flow in abundance. They did not take into consideration the solemn fact that the soil had been cultivated for fifty years—and such cultivation!—without rotation, without manure, without grass or clover. Several of these had never farmed before and were not prepared for the toil, care and practical knowledge to renovate a soil whose strength and richness had been converted into corn and cotton and shipped away. Of course this class were disappointed and for awhile were discouraged, but, with one or two exceptions, they are now doing well, are satisfied with their new home and have no desire to return North.

But the majority of those who have settled here are of a different type, representing the enterprize, energy and industry of the North. In their purchases and business operations they exercised judgment, and they are all succeeding. Possessing the peculiar genius necessary to the development of a country like this they are fast making it what Nature designed it should be, the most productive and prosperous under the sun.

A man possessing industry, judgement and capital enough to make a good beginning, cannot make a mistake in locating here. Such a man can scarcely fail in bettering his condition by doing so.

THE NEW YORK TRAGEDY.

We referred very briefly, in our last issue, to the appalling occurrence of the explosion of the Ferry Boat Westfield at New York on the 30th ult. The day was warm, and all the passengers, who could, crowded the front of the boat to catch the sea breeze. The end of the boiler immediately under the decks upon which this crowd of happy, unconscious victims were seated, was blown out and in a moment this mass of humanity was blown headless, armless, legless, their flesh scalded to their bones, into the steaming debris among the broken and falling timbers. The scene beggars description. Over ninety are already dead and over fifty more are badly injured, many of whom will be maimed and deformed for life. And all the result of carelessness on the part of the officers having in charge the execution of the laws respecting Steam boats.

Now that the question has been settled in North Carolina that her organic law cannot be altered and changed at the dictum of a mere partisan majority, as we predicted, the edict went forth on the 3rd inst., that her institutions are stable and her people in favor of law, order and peace. It will place her once more in harmony with the National Government and put a quietus upon all attempts at anarchy and revolution. The Northern immigrant and capitalist will again feel confidence and safety and the work of improving and building up will go on. Never did the people of North Carolina do a better and braver work than accomplished on the day of the late election.

North Carolina is henceforth a Republican State and will cast her electoral vote for the Presidential nominee of the Republican Party in 1872 as surely as the rising of to morrow morning's sun. Nor is this all. Thank God, she will do more—will elect a Legislature in harmony with the General Government to succeed the one now holding office and which has mis represented the people and disgraced the State in the eyes of the civilized world This grand old North State has a grand and auspicious future before her.

The Ku-Klux in North Carolina are circumvented, defeated, frightened, and as an organization will die. They are demoralized and terrified. They now feel that they are in danger—of getting their just deserts, and are scattering, many of them fleeing the State. Never again will these midnight assassins show themselves in loyal, Republican North Carolina. All honor to JOHN POOL, C. L. COBB and the true hearted people for this grand result.

THE CASE OF DR. UNDERWOOD—HIS TRIUMPHANT VINDICATION AND ACQUITTAL—HIS SLANDEROUS PROSECUTOR SUED FOR DAMAGES.

Our readers will remember that we alluded several weeks ago to the fact that one of our most prominent and esteemed citizens—Dr. WILLIAM UNDERWOOD—was arrested on the oath of a certain A. C. MOORE, formerly of Williamsport, Pa., now of Norfolk, Va., charging that the said UNDERWOOD on the 24th of July, 1869, obtained $900, from him under false pretenses, giving his check on the Exchange National Bank of Norfolk for the money and having no funds there. The trial came off before the City Court of Norfolk on Tuesday of last week. We were present and heard it, as were several of our most prominent citizens, as well as many of the leading and most influential citizens of Norfolk who manifested a deep interest in the trial. The evidence as sworn to by the prosecutor was the most remarkable we ever listened to before any Court or Jury. On the cross examination he not only contradicted himself over and over again but he satisfied the bye-standers as well as the jury that the object was to black mail and extort money.

The defense explained that the check, instead of a note, was given at the suggestion of Mr. MOORE himself "because it would save 45 cents in stamps," and the matter was to be arranged at a subsequent date and in a way then agreed upon; and the Cashier of the Exchange National Bank—E. D. SMITH. Esq.,—testified that the money received by the defendant was on a check given by MOORE on that Bank and paid on the 24th day of July 1869, the very day it was given, thus disproving the sworn statement of the prosecutor that he paid the $900 in money and after the Bank was closed. Letters written by MOORE were then read in which he admitted that special agreement had been made for the arrangement of the transaction, and notes and other evidences of indebtedness given by MOORE to the defendant, and still held by him, were also read showing a balance due the latter. C. C. PRICE Sr., of Elizabeth City, was then called. He testified that early in July Mr. MOORE made several statements to him which were in direct conflict with what he had sworn to before the jury. The witness had been intimately acquainted with Dr. UNDERWOOD since 1836 and his character had always been good. Hon. C. C. POOL, also of Elizabeth City, and Superior Court Judge of the 1st Judicial District, testified that he was well acquainted with Dr. UNDERWOOD and his character was as good and he stood in as high esteem as any man in the District. NATHAN OVERMAN a prominent Merchant of Elizabeth City, also testified to the defendants good character and reputation. Dr. PALEMON JOHN, editor of the NORTH CAROLINIAN, and Director of the Loan and Trust Company at Elizabeth City, testified that he had been intimately acquainted with Dr. UNDERWOOD since 1843, both in Pennsylvania and North Carolina, and that his character was irreproachable.

The following distinguished citizens of Norfolk also testified to the good character and high standing of the defendant, to wit: Col. E. C. LINDSEY, Real Estate Agent; Col. WILLIAM LAMB, Confederate Commander at Fort Fisher, and at present President of the First National Bank; WM. B. ROGERS, President Norfolk Trust Company; W. W. LAMB, Esq., Cashier of Trust Company; WM. FOREST, Real Estate Agent; and ISAIAH FEARING, Deputy Clerk of Norfolk County Court. Several of these gentlemen stated that their business relations with the defendant had been very extensive, covering large amounts and that they had never done business with any man—Northern or Southern—that had been more satisfactory. They had full confidence in his integrity, his liberality and his honor.

We would add that the counsel employed by MOORE to assist the Commonwealths Attorney, on hearing the evidence, left the case in disgust, and that the Hon. ASA BIGGS, being in the Court Room and learning that one of the defendants counsel was sick, volunteered to assist in the trial, which kindness was duly appreciated by the defendant and his friends.

Dr. UNDERWOOD has prosecuted Mr. MOORE, claiming damages of $25,000. The trial will come off on the first Monday of December. An example should be made of a man who attempts, for the sake of money, to blacken the character and blast the reputation of any man, and especially of one who stands so high in every community in which he has lived as does Dr. UNDERWOOD.

Old Kentucky is making glorious progress. In 1870 the Republicans of that old Bourbon State, on a vote nearly as large as that cast in the Presidential election, cut down the Democratic majority more than one half. This was in a Congressional election. This year, with an election for State officers and a Legislature, the Republicans have done still better. The canvas was a very lively one, the two candidates, LESLIE, Democrat, and HARLAN, Republican, traveling over the State, and presenting their respective views to the same audiences. LESLIE adhered to the Bourbon doctrine, and repudiated the new departure. HARLAN exposed the dangers to which the ancient policy exposed the State—of running counter to the progressive tendencies of neighboring States, of repelling intelligent immigration, and of keeping up an ignorant and dangerous class in the community. The Republicans have elected 20 members of the Legislature.

A letter from one of the Southern watering-places asserts that there are among the eight hundred guests a plenty of attentive young gentlemen, who are "beaux in the good sense of the word." To divulge the spot might occassion too great a rush hence of belles, in the good old sense of the word.

Is Nag's Head the place referred to? Shouldn't wonder.

Hon. CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, of Massachusetts, has been appointed Arbitrator at Geneva on the Alabama claims.

THE RESULT.

The votes cast on the Constitutional Convention, at the recent election, will be officially canvassed by the Governor and other officers on Thursday next, the 24th inst. From the returns so far as received the marjority against the Convention will probably be about 15,000. These are about the figures we placed it at. We never felt doubtful as to the result of this contest. We are beginning to understand the people and politics of this State and feel pretty safe in making estimates as to the results of elections.

Hon. THOS. J. JARVIS is present Speaker of the North Carolina Legislature, and is an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for Governor. His native county—Tyrell—gave a Democratic majority, in 1870, of ninety nine. This year it goes Republican by a majority of seventy seven, a clear gain of one hundred and seventy-six votes against the Speaker's party. Had he staid at home and canvassed his county it is believed that our majority would have been largely increased, as every county he visited and made speeches in gave us an increased vote.

Of course the Democrats of this State are not happy over their defeat, but some of them—the Wilmington Journal for instance—take it philosophically. It says:

"We submit to the decree of the majority as becomes law-abiding citizens, and shall labor faithfully and zealously to save the State from ruin."

This is a much more sensible way to talk than to rave and howl as does the crazy editor of the Sentinel. The people took the first great step on the 3rd inst., toward "saving the State from ruin," and whether the Journal co-operates or not, we propose doing our part to make that salvation sure.

Having so often heard the charge that the present Constitution of North Carolina is the production of "carpetbaggers" and negroes, we have taken some pains to ascertain the complexion of the delegation that framed it. We find that the Convention was composed of ninety-seven delegates. Of these seventeen were not native North Carolinians and but twelve were colored men.

What do the infamous libellers of Hon. JOHN POOL have to say for themselves now that he is so triumphantly vindicated by the people? As we said months ago, we repeat now, some of them will yet call on the mountains to hide them.

The Democrats wanted to upset our State Constitution. They held that the people could call a Convention, though the Legislature could not. So to the people they appealed, and by the people they are routed. Are they satisfied?

Official information has been received that the Ku Klux act of Congress is being enforced in the South with much more success than was anticipated. The National Government is in earnest.

Montana is redeemed. The Republican delegate to Congress has been elected by over 1,000 majority—a gain of over 2,500. Bravely the good work goes on.

Commissioner PLEASONTON has been suspended by the President, Deputy Commissioner Douglass being appointed to succeed him.

The Raleigh Telegram has been sold to the Era Publishing Company, and hence will be merged into the latter paper. The Telegram was a spicy sheet.

Europe

AUGUST 9.—The British House of Commons passed the Ballot bill, yesterday, after an exciting debate between Disraeli and Gladstone. Dublin is quiet, the rioters having been fined and released. The cattle disease has appeared in Ireland. The opponents of Infallibility in Heidelberg are discussing the expediency of establishing a new Church. The French Assembly has passed the Indemnification bill. A bill has been introduced providing for gratuitous and compulsory education. Another fishing vessel has been seized by the Dominion authorities.

AUGUST 10.—The centennial anniversary of the birthday of Sir Walter Scott was celebrated throughout Scotland, yesterday. The King of Spain has been memorialized to abolish Slavery in Cuba and Porto Rico. The French Government has determined to increase the present direct taxes instead of taxing raw materials. The Prussians are evacuating Troyes. The Berlin Stock Exchange refuses to allow the quotations of the New York City loan to appear in the official stock list.

AUGUST 11.—The English House of Lords has rejected the Ballot bill by a majority of 49. The French Assembly has passed the Decentralization bill. Gens. Quesada and Figueredo have been executed at Santiago de Cuba. The French have gained an important victory over the Algerian insurgents.

AUGUST 12.—Several persons have been killed in England by an explosion of gun-cotton. The Emperors of Germany and Austria met at Wels yesterday. The Mt. Cenis Tunnel is a complete success. The German occupation of France will cease during the present year. The Pope has refused the title of "Pius the Great." A conflict between Mexican officers is imminent at Matamoros.

AUGUST 14.—Over 20 persons were killed and 50 wounded by the recent gun-cotton explosion in England. Chief-Justice Cockburn has been appointed Arbitrator for England, under the Washington Treaty. The meeting in Hyde Park, yesterday, protesting against the suppression of the Phœnix Park meeting, was not disturbed by the police. There was no rioting in Londonderry on Saturday. The remainder of the new U. S. loan, $120,000,000, has been sold in Berlin.

Many Republicans were forced to believe that the Democratic State committee was well supplied with funds, and nobody seemed to doubt that Tammany was the banker who discounted so freely. After the election had determind the extreme closeness of the Legislature a gentleman informed us that while in New York one day he casually overheard a remark dropped at a hotel by a New Yorker, who was not a Republican, which in substance conveyed to him the intelligence that the Legislature would be organized by the Democrats and that Tammany would contribute fifty thousand dollars, if necessary, to insure that result.—Boston Commonwealth.

New York and the New England States together have almost one-third of the cities in the United States.

Overcoats are said to be in demand in Washington, especially those left hanging in the halls of the hotels.

A young man who keeps a collection of locks of hair of his lady friends, calls them his hair-breadth escapes.

A sailor at Toledo obtained the first intelligence he received of his father for fifteen years from a tombstone there.

The residence of Mr. James Newlin, of Alamance county, was shivered by lightning during a storn. a few days ago.

The prarie-chicken season has begun, and Western sportsmen are all out on the prairies.

More mackerel are caught this season off Halifax, Nova Scotia, than they have salt to cure.

Two San Francisco girls lately ordered eighty-five dresses from Berlin. The "old man" owns a gold mine.

A man up in Portsmouth, N. H., named his two children Ebenezer, and Flora, and always spoke of them as "Eb" and "Flo."

Judge Chester I. Reed, of the Massachusetts Superior Court, has resigned. Inadequate salary again.

A State Industrial Convention is to be held in Batou Rouge, La., on the 16th of October, the first ever held in Louisiana.

A Chicago bishop waited two hours for a bride who had been disappointed in her bonnet strings.

The ladies of San Francisco are said to atone by their gorgeous toilets for their lack of natural attactions.

George W. Curtis believes that "home is a woman's heaven;" but if a woman tries to run away from home it is no heaven to her."

Girls, make a note of this remark of an old, worn-out beau: "A man who most compliments a woman is the one who most despises her.

Caleb Cushing has been retained by the Boston banks as their counsel in the suit to contest the legality of the tax on dividends between Aug. 1 and Jan. 1.

The average length of time spent at the toilet by seaside belles is said to be seven hours out of the twenty four.

Seven feet of feminine loveliness, all in one individual, daily excites admiration by promenading Sixth avenue, New York.

A Memphis belle challenged a man to marry. He valiantly accepted, and in twenty minutes there was a wedding. In twenty days there was a divorce.

It is said that ground acorns and horse-chestnuts enter into the composition of a large portion of the cheap maccaroni and vermicelli manufactured in New York.

A pious Detroit sign, which read: "No spirits sold at this soda fountain," was altered by a wag so as to read: "No. 1 spirits sold," etc.

A San Francisco doctor advertised for a "good office cat." He has already received 243 felines, with the southern counties yet to hear from.

A young man who inquired as to what business would enable him to occupy a high position in society, was advised to try the roofing business.

A Richmond paper makes the remark that "it matters not in what condition man may be placed, provision is made for his assistance, if he can get to it."

People in Titusville express value in terms of oil barrels. Thus they speak of a fashionable young lady as wearing an eighty-six barrel opera suit.

A Newbern correspondent of the Hillsboro Recorder says that "in an old family vault in that city is a body petrified like stone in the likeness of life."

Major Randolph, a grandson of Thomas Jefferson, was beset and dangerously wounded, at Hurricane Bride, Va., the other day, by a gang of railroad strikers.

Prince Bismarck is so overwhelmed with letters, mostly from persons unknown, that, while at Varzin, he will only open those from relatives or particular friends.

They have turned the sexton's wife out of the church in California for trying to induce the parson to run away with her to Nevada, and turn sinner.

The French Minister of Finance cannot bear to be alone in a carriage. If he so finds himself, he asks the first person he meets to get into the carriage with him.

Terre Haute, Ind., has a law against hitching horses to shade trees, and a case is to be tested whether a man can be arrested for hitching his horse to his own shade tree.

"Bill," said Bob, "why is that tree called the Weeping Willow?" "'Cause one of the sneaking, plaguey things grew near the school house, and supplied the master with switches."

Some fellow, with "nothing to wear," appropriated the entire wardrobe of Dr. O. E. Stallings, of Halifax county, last week, while that gentleman was "sleeping, sweetly sleeping."

A man at Mount Vernon, Ill., who recently got married, was so overcome by the change in his condition that he spent the first night in the woods and ran away the next day.

There is an enterprising young man in Cheyenne. He began three years ago with two cows, and delivered milk on foot. He now has a herd of 300 valuable cows and cattle, and drives two horses to a milk-wagon.

Two hundred ready made buildings have been shipped from Chicago to Colorado recently. They are said to be the easiest things to put up and the readiest things to blow down that can well be imagined.

A gentleman in Indiana has cleared his house of cockroaches by scattering about a liberal supply of old-fashioned red wafers. It is supposed that after gorging themselves these cheerful insects retire to their holes and stick fast.

The "Abyssinian stretch" has superseded the Grecian bend and the kangaroo droop among the belles of fashion. It is supposed that this will have a short run, as the "Madagascar flutter" and the "Feejeean sprawl" are waiting to be adopted.

In the vicinity of West Newport, Me., the grasshoppers, after destroying all the grain they could find, are now devoring themselves with much assiduity to the potatoes.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 5.—Miss Emeline Taylor, who was in a trance for twenty-one days, has been restored to full life and vigor. She came out of the trance in perfect health, talking and laughing as though nothing had occurred.

Mr. Wallace, who wagered $2,500 with Mr. Hampden that the earth is round, and, of course, won, recently brought an action against Hampden for libel, and received from a London jury a verdict of $3,000 damages.

An Arkansas paper says that 400 calves were shot out of one herd during the drive from Texes to Kansas last month. All young calves are shot as soon as they are born, so as to be got rid of and allow the cows to be driven.

The Rev. L. C. Rutter, a young man of 22, styled the "boy preacher," has achieved a great sensation in Noble county, Ohio, where he presides over two Presbyterian congregations, and has inaugurated a sweeping temperance reform.

An Advertisement in the St. Paul (Minn.) papers reads: "Persons who have contracted debts to B. F. Simmons are forbidden to make payment thereof except to the undersigned. Mrs. B. F. Simmons."

A story told out in Denver, Col., is that during the late tornado there a gentleman lost his bran new stove-pipe hat, and rushing to the next station asking to have his hat stopped on its course, to which the reporter replied, "Too late; already passed."

It is a curious fact that during the ravages of the plague in Buenos Ayres, nearly depopulating the city, not one of the three hundred and sixty gravediggers employed died of the fever. A similar exemption has been frequently noticed in the gravediggers of cholera times.

A Canton, Ill., farmer says; "I was going out past my corn crib the other morning, when I observed a large rat, with head erect, carrving, a full sized ear of corn in his mouth. At the same time his tail was wrapped around another, and an extra large ear, which he was dragging behind him."

Butler told a Boston man recently that he did not profess to be over-religious or over temperate, but when he was on duty he performed it to the best of his ability. Thus delicately did he imitate that were he Governor the Prohibitory Liquor low would be enforced.

The enlistment at Montreal for, Cuba constitutes the excitement of the hour, especially since the sudden check administered. Two Quebec filibuster's "peached" on the filibusters of Montreal, and on the application of the Spanish Consul, Sudge Doucet issued warrants for the apprehension of Major Wm. Robinson and James L. Starnes, both members of the "Prince of Wales Rifles." Starnes was held for further examination, but Major Robinson was admitted to bail.

Mrs. C. L. Vallandigham died on the 13th.

Serious fires have occurred in Philadelphia, Rochester, N. Y., and Rochester, N. H.

A California genius has invented what he calls the Eureka Boot-Puller, which consists of a leather belt, having two hooks attached to it. He places the bel, over his right shoulder, adjusts the hooks in the boot-straps, and then leans backward, and the tightest boot is conquered.

A tornado passed over Winnscome and Granville, Wis., on Mondy night, and destroyed a boom containing 3,000,000 feet of timber, capsized a steamer, drowning the Captain and a raftsman; blew down thirty chimneys, broke innumerable windows, scattered grain in the shock, and destroyed a Roman Catholic Church in Granville.

Dr. Daniel Smith, an eminent physician and respected citizen of Robenson County, North Carolina, was shot by some miscreant in ambush while returning home from visiting a patient on the 3rd inst. The wounds are supposed to be fatal, five duck-shot having entered his head, and ten entering his shoulder and back.

A citizen of Parkersburg, West Va., is said to have received a letter from Chief-Justice Chase, in reply to a series of resolution submitted to him for consideration, in which he holds that the recent amendments are valid, and are parts of the Constitution, and are to be respected and obeyed as such, and this without qualification or reservation of any kind. The resolution referred to are to be published at an early day.

In a recent interview Gen. Benjamin F. Butler said: "It is not laws we want; there are plenty of laws, good enough, too. Administrative ability to enforce law is the great want of the age—in this country especially. Everybody talks of law—law. If they would only insist on the enforcement of law, the Government would stand on a firmer basis, and 'questions' would settle themselves."

A telegram from Halifax on Friday last reports that immense quantities of mackerel have struck in along the coast in that neighborhood, and that there were neither barrels nor salt enough to be had to cure all that are caught. The market price at Halifax is now ten cents per dozen, and per barrel it has gone down to 86. This will cause a heavy loss to the merchants who have not sold the fish purchased at the old high pries.

The discovery of an ancient outlet to Lake Superior is mentioned by Professor Minchell, the Director of the State Geological Survey of Michigan, in his last report. It is a deep valley, bordered with high bluffs, and runs from Lake Superior to Green Bay, in Lake Michigan, suggesting the practicability of a ship canal along the same route, with a view to shortening the voyage between the ports of the two lakes.

A singularity which has perhaps passed unperceived by many is that the letter M not only being the first of the words "music," "melody," is also the first of a great number of names of ancient and modern composers: for example, Marcelo, Monsigny, Mehul, Mozart, Martini, Mercadante, Monpon, Meyerbeer, Malibran, Maysseder, Mine, Musard, Masini, Maillart, Mendelssohn, Masse, Moscheles, Membree, Mermet, &c.

The lecture by Mrs. Stanton "to women only," in San Francisco, appeared in full in the next morning's Chronicle, to her great anger and surprise. She sought the offending chronicler in high dudgeon, and demanded an explanation. The editor blandly remarked that one of his reporters had accidently clothed himself in female apparel, walked into the hall, found a convenient place where he could not be seen, and taken copious notes, which afterwards happened to get into the Chronicle. He was very sorry, but really, etc., etc.

A servant-girl, fourteen years old, who was arrested in New-Haven, on Sunday, on the charge of attempting to burn a carriage factory and a dwelling house, obtained permission to go up to her room to change her dress, and took the opportunity to jump from the window to the roof of another building, whence she made her escape while the officers were quietly waiting for her below. It is supposed she set the fires merely from a desire to see the buildings burn. She has been kindly treated by her employers, and nothing vicious has ever before been noticed in her ways.

The Mobile Register speaks in very uncomplimentary terms of that class of excitable, sensational and nervous people in the South, who run from one extreme to another. Men who mounted the Southern cockade before the war, and could hardly be restrained from beginning the fight "before breakfast," and who, since they were beaten, have lost all nerve and pluck, have felt their hearts feebly palpitating in their boots, and are perfectly persuaded that the world came to an end and "the last recorded syllable of time" was audibly breathed out when Gen. Lee surrendered.

The editor of a newspaper in Richmond, Va., received on Thursday last a polite note from a lady of respectability in that city, signed by her full name, announcing that she would at 8 o'clock in the evening of that day proceed to take her own life by the most available means, and respectfully soliciting the pleasure of a reporter's company to witness the ceremony. Punctually at the appointed hour, the reporter and several other invited guests presented themselves at the residence designated, but owing to the interference of friends, or some other circumstances, the attempt was indefinitely postponed. But the purpose of the writer came very near being carried out. Of course the lady is deranged.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisement in this issue.
New York advertisements.
Bankrupt Notices.
Fertilising.
Reduction in Prices.

Local and Personal.

☞ No attention is paid to anonymous communications.

☞ The "fodder pulling" season is here, and our farmers have their hands busily employed at it.

☞ A cynical lady in town rather inclined to flirt, says most men are like a cold—very easily caught, but very difficult to get rid of. We mention no names.

☞ We return thanks to the Captain temporarily in charge of the Steamer Thomas Jefferson for courtesies and special favors. He is every inch a gentleman.

☞ This, the First Congressional District, did nobly at the election. There was a gain in every county except Gates. The aggregate gain amounts to over twenty-five hundred. We call that a pretty good days work.

☞ The following is a sample of the letters we are receiving since the election:

VINCENTOWN, N. J. August 11, 1871.

Editor of the North Carolinian:

For enclosed please send me your paper. Since your State is redeemed I intend to vist it soon. Yours, &c.

☞ "A Young Reader" wants to know who Mrs. Partington is? She is an imaginary old lady whose laughable sayings have been recorded by the American humorist B. P. SHILLABER. She is particularly distinguished for her amusing affectation and misuse of learned words.

☞ Hon. W. N. H. SMITH will accept our thanks for a copy of his speech in defense of Gov. HOLDEN at his late impeachment trial. Is is able and exhaustive—indeed we think the legal points presented and the arguments made unanswerable. Mr. SMITH is one of the best lawyers in the South.

☞ Parties wishing to see the Editor on business are notified that they can only do so on Tuesdays and Wednesdays as the balance of the week he proposes spending, during the season, with his family at Nag's Head. Editors need recreation and rest as well as other folks and we propose enjoying a little at "our home on the sea-shore." In the meanwhile we will not forget nor neglect our readers.

☞ Now that the election is over let all accept the result in good faith and go to work and advance the material interests of the District and the State. Let all feeling and passion and animosity engendered by the canvas be allayed—die out, and now that all have cast their ballots, there let the matter rest, all forgetting that they differed before. A great work is before us. We all have a part to do in accomplishing it. Let each man do his duty.

☞ There is no section of country where clover and the grasses can be raised more successfully and profitably than in this part of Eastern Carolina, and yet there is none where these are more neglected. We have been agitating the matter now for more than two years and have succeeded in inducing a few of our farmers to try the experiment. The result has been more than satisfactory. Not only will clover prove an invaluable fertilizer, but for feed and pasture it will be found profitable. We are sending North and paying from $35 to $40 a ton for hay when it could be made here at home for $10. Farmers! look to your interests.

☞ We are glad to be able to announce to our political brethren of our sister counties that the Republican Party of Pasquotank county is not only united, but stronger than ever before. Many old line Whigs, who, since the war have been co-operating with the party calling itself "Conservative," seeing that after all it is led and inspired by the very Democracy they always spurned and hated, are disgusted with it and will henceforth act and vote with the Republicans. They feel that as honest men, they must leave a party practicing and apologizing for knavery, theft and assassination.

☞ The following fact may be of interest to certain of our business men. A New York wholesale merchant who has become rich in business has lately made the following revelation. He says his rule always was when he sold a bill of goods on credit to immediately subscribe for the local paper of his debtor. So long as his customers advertised liberally and vigorously he rested, but as soon as they began to contract their advertising space, he took the fact as evidence that there was trouble ahead, and he invariably went for his debt. "For," said he, "the man who feels too poor to make his business known, is too poor to do business." This withdrawing of an advertisement is an evidence of weakness that business men are not slow to observe.

☞ It is an old and hackneyed phrase that

"God made the country and man made the town," and yet when man does his duty the latter can be made as cheery, as pleasant and as comfortable to live and enjoy life in as the former. Around Elizabeth City we have a beautiful country. God has been lavish in adapting it for the needs, wants and comforts of man. Intelligent industry can make it a garden spot. As for our town, it too can be made a beautiful city—one desirable to live in. The past two years have witnessed a wonderful improvement. Changes for the better are being made, new buildings are going up, the streets are being repaired, new pavements are being laid, and numerous evidences of progress are to be seen all around us. Elizabeth City will favorably compare in beauty, taste and enterprize with any town we know of in the South.

☞ Several new street lamps have been put up in different parts of the City.

☞ We regret that Dr. J. N. BUTT's Advertisement was handed in too late for this issue. Our readers will see it in our next.

☞ We are pained to learn of the death of the child of Rev. S. S. LAMBETH which occurred a few days ago. We deeply sympathize with the afflicted parents in this their sad bereavement.

☞ Last year this Senatorial District gave 593 Democratic majority. This year the Republican majority is 195, a gain of 788. How does "Our Senator" like the figures? We think them interesting.

☞ Our town was honored last week with a visit from "The Great Southern Prize Company." They exhibited in the Guirkin building on Saturday evening, and left early on Monday morning, forgetting to settle their hotel bill. Mr. PENDLETON followed them and had them arrested at Edenton, obtaining a part of the amount due him for "board and lodging."

OUR LOCAL PORT—FOLIO.

Fast going up—Sheriff Wood's new building. A writ of attachment—a marriage certificate. Came out very dry—the man who was drowned with applause. May hang up her fiddle—a "gal" when she loses her beau. The land of Cane—a sugar plantation. Start on a small scale—little fish. Things not generally known—poor people. A nice ship—court-ship—Visionay fruit—the apple of the eye. The "rest" of the week—Sunday. An early riser—the man with a short temper. Rapidly approaching completion—Dr. Butt's new house. Quite a rush—to Nag's Head. Cheap as dirt—peaches in our market. Has ordered a fresh supply—the young lady whose feelings were "all worked up." A bawl room—the nursery. Quite warm in Elizabeth City, but—cool and pleasant at Nag's Head. Still a luxury—Magee's ice. Sick and despondent—the Democrats. Making excellent flour—the little Steam Mill. Kept busy—the Mills of the Land & Lumber Co.

Business Locals.

We want it distinctly understood that all Job Work must be settled for on delivery.

A. E. Jacobs, of Nag's Head fame, is still in business in the Dry Goods and Notion line, at 35 Market Square, Norfolk, Va. He is always glad to see his North Carolina friends.

Several Hundred old newspapers for sale at this office. Price 75 cents a hundred.

DEATHS.

WHITE.—Died near Edenton, N. C., on the 21st day of July, 1871, Mrs. Jennie M. WHITE relict of Fredrick White, Esq., and daughter of William and Sarah Benbury, in the 29th year of her age. She has been a faithful member of the Baptist Church for thirteen years, and in her God and Saviour she humbly and sincerely trusted.

She passeth hence,—
A daughter from loving parents brother, Sisters,
A wife from her husband. Time hath shed
No frost upon her, and the tree of life
Glows in the freshness of its summer prime,—
Yet still she passeth hence; her work on earth
Soon done, and well. Her's was the unwavering mind,
The untiring hand in duty. Firm of soul
And pure in purpose, on the Eternal Rock
Of Christian trust, her energies reposed,
And sought no tribute from a shadowy world,
Her early hope and homage clave to God,
When the bright skies, the untroubled founts of youth,
With all their song-birds, all their flowers, rose up
To tempt her spirit. So, in hours of pain,
He did remember her, and on her brow
And in her breast, the dove-like messenger
Found peaceful home.

O thou, whom grieving love
Would blindly pinion in this vale of tears,
Farewell! It is a glorious flight for faith
To trace thy upward path, above this clime
Of change and storm. We will remember thee
At thy turf-bed, and 'mid the twilight hour
Of Solemn music, when the buried sister
Comes back so visibly, and seems to fill
The vacant chair, our speech shall be of thee.
W. E. B.

AUGUST, 6th, 1871.

On the morning of the election in Kentucky the Louisville Courier-Journal said: "The Republican Party do not hope for success to day, but they have left no stone unturned to give their defeat as much as possible the semblance of success, in order that it may inspire their ranks with hope and courage in future contests, and afford moral aid and comfort to the weak and wavering of their party elsewhere. If they succeed in affecting a material reduction in the Democratic majority, they will feel themselves amply compensated, for the time being, for all the labor and money they have expended during the convass." Well, as the returns show, that compensation is certainly theirs.

A well-dressed young swindler has been victimising some of the citizens of Newburyport, Mass., in a most audacious manner. His practice has been to call at a house, demand to know how many of the inmates have been vaccinated within five years and how many have not, then carefully to enter the names in a book, and end up with asserting that the city authorities have decided that all residents who have not been vaccinated within five years must either undergo that operation at once or supply themselves with a preventive powder, which he has with him, the price of which is twenty-five cents.

We have been a good deal amused by the offer of a Georgia newspaper editor, who announces that he will publish "original poetry" at the low rate "of $9 per line." To comprehend the desperation of this journalist one must have been a journalist himself, receiving daily dozens of copies of verses, for which he has, were they good, no room in his columns, while most of them are so feebly bad that they are not even entertaining. In the present state of the Art Poetica let it, once for all, be understood that smooth versification is no proof of genius; and every rhymer should ask himself this question; "If I do not publish this 'poem' what effect will its suppression have upon the age and the world?"

On the night of the 13th a fire broke out at the Exchange Hotel in Goldsboro, this State, destroying the two hotels, ten stores and the railroad carshops. Loss about $80,000—insurance probably $30,000. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and is generally supposed to have had its origin out of the late riot.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DEBILITY AND EMACIATION.—Both result from the lack of ability to convert the food into nutriment. How necessary then, for those suffering from these alarming symptoms to immediately resort to a remedy that will strengthen the stomach and digestive organs. For, as soon as this desirable object has been accomplished the health improves, and the patient resumes his usual personal appearance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have attained a world-wide popularity in such cases, and have been proven the best and safest means of removing constipation, toning the stomach, giving energy to the liver, and relieving every symptom of nervousness and depression of spirits. Its cheering and beneficial effects are highly spoken of by thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health. No restorative in the annals of medicine has attained the same popularity in the short space of time it has been before the public, or has won the high endorsements accorded to this excellent tonic. Many other preparations, purporting to be correctives and restoratives, have been introduced, and have perished one by one, while the popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters continues to increase, and is now recognized as a standard household medicine. The success which attends the use of the Bitters evinces at once its virtues in all cases of debility and disease of the stomach. Certificates, almost without number, have been published, attesting its truly miraculous power in removing those painful diseases. And at this time it seems idle to do more than call attention to the great remedy of the age, in order to awaken public attention to its excellence. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it is therefore worthy of the consideration of the afflicted.

PASQOTANK COUNTY, N. C.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

July 19th, A. D., 1871.

PETITION TO SELL LAND FOR DIVISION

James Jennings, Decatur Jennings, David Pritchard and wife, Mary, John Temple and wife Lydida, Martin Temple and wife Elizabeth Emily Jennings, "infant" by her next friend James Jennings, and Grandy Harris, Plaintiffs,

Against

The heirs at law of Susan Davis and John Tadlock and wife, Margaret Tadlock, Defendants.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

TO THE SHERIFF OF PERQUIMANS COUNTY,—GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon the heirs of Susan Davis, and John Tadlock and wife Margaret, the defendants above named if they be found within your County, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Pasquotank within thirty days, after the service of this summons on them, exclusive of the day of such service, and answer the complaint a copy of which is on file in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pasquotank: And let them take notice, that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Herein fail not; and of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court this the 19th day of July, A. D. 1871.

W. E. VAUGHAN,
Clerk of the Superior Court of Pasquotank County.

In this affidavit having been made that the heirs at law of Susan Davis reside in the State of Indiana at Pendleton in Madison county, it is ordered that publication for Six weeks in the "North Carolinian" newspaper published at Elizabeth City, of the foregoing Summons for the said heirs at law be made as the law requires.

Dr. Wells having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a Blood Purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Door-Yard Ornamentation.

Great progress has been made in our ancient style of gardening. Formerly every little door yard, however small, was cut up into a labyrinth of narrow walks, carefully edged with dwarf box. This sort of needless and unsightly patchwork is fast passing away, and a far better taste is being shown in the smooth, soft carpet of green grass, with the needful flower beds cut out wherever required. Flowers are like diamonds; their settings should be of the inconspicuous order, and never the most prominent feature of the two—as often seen among the "shoddyites" in both fashionable society and horticulture. Our florists—and nurserymen still have a considerable demand for "box," for edgings; and it is a pity, although 'tis true, that we have so much bad taste shown in our suburban gardens. Sometimes the grounds are cut up into walks resembling an old-fashioned patch bed quilt of many colors; and the proprietor, not wishing to be outdone in the way of variety, crowds a thousand varieties of plants into a place where a hundred would be a far better number, and show to better advantage. This trying to show how many varieties can be grown has been a curse to pomology, and is rapidly ruining horiculture. A dozen, plants, well grown, show better taste and judgement than a hundred as far too generally seen. We hope our readers will remember this when making their selections of seeds and plants this season. Choose only a few of the very best, and of species that will give a succession of bloom throughout the season, and bestow upon all the care that would have been given to many, and see if greater satisfaction and better results will not be derived therefrom.

We know of a man who cultivated three hundred varieties of gladioli last summer; but one-tenth of the number, properly selected, would have furnished all the beauty and other merits found in the entire lot. To strive for the very best is commendable; but to seek to obtain everything is like trying to gain an education by studying everything and knowing nothing thoroughly.—Rural New Yorker.

Turkeys and Chickens.

I desire to write what I know of raising turkeys and chickens.

The receipts given for curing chickens of the gapes such as whites of eggs, corn meal with pepper, wheat soaked in turpentine, and a number of others are of little if any value. The gapes in chickens are caused by small worms getting into the windpipe. I have raised thousands upon thousands of chickens, and believe that gapes is a contagious disease, for my chickens never had them until I bought strange chickens. I have tried many cures, and there are none that amount to anything except the horse hair. By inserting, the horse hair in the chicken's windpipe you draw the small red worm out, and this at once relieves the chicken and the gapes are cured.

In regard to raising turkeys the best plan is to feed them on milk made into a chese with wheat and wheat screenings. In time of rain keep them in the dry, for when they get wet they get draggled and die. Corn meal I have tried, and upon a clear examination I find that it does not agree with them, and in many instances kills them. Old turkeys, I think, do best out in the cold, on trees, rather than in sheltered places. Let every farmer be cautious of what he feeds his young turkeys until they are eight to ten weeks old. After this period they will know what to eat.

I know that the foregoing is correct, for I have tried many plans, and experience is always the best guide.—Reading Gazette.

To Cure a Kicking Horse.—German H. Chatterton, Sutherland, Vt., In answer to Mr. Carlton Rice's inquiry, "how to cure a kicking horse?" let me communicate a method which has proved effective in as bad a case. With a strong harness, hitch to a stout whiffletree, which has a rope attached to it long enough to allow a man to hold the rope with safety. Let one man hold the mare by the head, while another holding the rope slack, but firmly, moves the trace or whiffletree against the mare's legs, tempting her to kick. Allow the whiffletree to fly high when she kicks, but bring it back every time, let her play with the arrangements until she is thoroughly tired of it and will not kick at it. Without harnessing her in any other way, try the same every day until she will allow the whiffletree and traces, or anything, to brush and strike against her legs without showing any fright, or dislike, even when fresh.

The Difference Between "Go" and "Come."

"If you want business done," says the proverb, "go and do it!" If you don't want it done, send some one else." An indolent gentleman had a freehold estate, producing about five hundred a year. Becoming involved in debt, he sold half the estate, and let the remainder to an industrious farmer for twenty years. About the end of the term, the farmer called to pay his rent, and asked the owner if he would sell his farm.

"Will you buy it?" asked the owner, surprised.

"Yes, provided we can agree upon the price."

"That is exceedingly strange," observed the gentleman; "pray tell me how it happens that while I could not live upon twice as much land, for which I paid no rent, you are regularly paying me two hundred a year, and are able in a few years to purchase it."

"The reason is plain," was the reply; "you sat still and said go! I got up and said come. You lay in bed and enjoyed your estate; I rose in the morning and minded my business."—Self Help.

Idleness is the dead sea that swallows virtues and the self-made sepulchre of a living man.

Baltimore brags over an ox-horn from Patagonia. It is sixty-five inches long, and seventeen in circumference.

A young lady of sixteen, who had worn short dresses all her life, positively told her mamma she would wear them no longer.

There are three things which can in no wise be used for good—malice, envy, and folly; and there are three things that can by no means be employed for evil—humility, contentment, and liberality.

Man must have occupation, or be miserable. Toil is the price of sleep and appetite—of health and enjoyment. The very necessity which overcoms our natural sloth is a blessing.

Spiritual truths can only be spiritually discerned. The Bible is a most delightful and surprising book to those who are under the illuminating grace of the Gospel.

The wife of a resident of Ulster county, who one year ago eloped with a "handsomer man" taking their two children with her, returned last week, and, after humbly begging forgiveness, was again received into the household of her husband.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3.000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15.000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3.500, $7.00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next, balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

BONE DUST.—

The subscriber has just erected at his Farm, near the city, the most improved machinery for making BONE DUST, and is now ready to fill orders for any quantity, which will be delivered at the shortest notice.

The BONE DUST will be finer than any heretofore made by him, (no chemical process resorted to,) enabling the Farmer or Planter to sow it with a Drill.

Mr. Samuel Sands, well known to the Farmers and Planters of the United States as the former Editor of the "American Farmer and Rural Register," will have charge of his office, NO. 63 S. GAY STREET, near Pratt, and will be happy to receive the visits or orders of his old friends.

$45 per ton, put in new bags. No charge for bags.

Farmers and others are invited to visit my works. I have nothing to conceal.

My men have nothing nice to perform, therefore I have no "non-admittance" signs on my premises. Persons are free to examine my factory, and the modus operandi of Dust making.

I cannot afford to pay 5, 10 or 20 per cent. to commission merchants, as my profits do not exceed 10 per cent.

Bone Dust, as manufacured by me, is A simple, and its quality cannot be made to conform to the price.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY

OF

NORTH CAROLINA.

Incorporated by the Legislature of North Carolina, December 17, 1868.

CAPITAL STOCK - - - - $300,000,00.

General Office: Elizabeth City, N. C.

OFFICERS

J. M. WEED, President. C. W. SMITH, Treasurer.

C. H. ROBINSON, Secretary.

DIRECTORS

J. M. WEED, WM. UNDERWOOD, CHARLES W. SMITH, N. R. ZIMMERMAN AND G. B. THOMPSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 1½ acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170, 172, 175, 178, 180, 182, 185, 187, 190, 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285, 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front, and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultivated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water trausportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to Norfolk, Va., then steamer to Elizabeth City, N. C.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphili, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Theum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges. Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastess, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN WILL and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for KIDNEY & BLADDER COMPLAINTS, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust, deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

VINEGAR BITTERS

R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen'l Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 & 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there isscarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
